Profile

Short story

I'm a low profile person who loves to just get things done.

Born in Lisbon, Portugal, moved right away to a place near the beautiful Serra da Estrela - then to Ribatejo where I spent most of my childhood.

Now I'm ~~back in Lisbon again~~ working remotely supporting different teams in different geographies.

I'm currently working at Talkdesk where I'm part of a team of designers that are leveling up the UX maturity of the company while developing a great product.

I admire simple but elegant visual designs, have a deep interest in design systems, and I'm also a front-end enthusiast.
